

The Credit Union Reporter

A place of safety in a time of insecurity

Every day we hear more distressing news; bank failures, weak housing prices, fiscal bailouts, and much more. As a completely independent financial institution, your credit union remains strong and secure and ready to provide you with both excellent services and exceptional rates. Unlike other financial institutions we are ready to lend. All deposits are insured by the NCUA, an agency of the United States government, for at least $250,000 per member while our reserves are nearly twice those required by law. We are look forward to serving you.
